SPANJAARD LUBRICANTS KEEP WHEELS TURNING

A wide range of specialized lubricants particularly suited to the rail transport industry are manufactured by Spanjaard Limited.

Thanks to extensive lubricant manufacturing experience which dates back to 1960, Spanjaard industrial products have stayed at the forefront of our country's challenging rail transportation lubrication and maintenance requirements.

Not only does the company understand normal day-to-day requirements, but in particular the importance of a pressurized maintenance schedule. The long term benefits of using a quality and correct product have been proven time and again, with less downtime, extending equipment life and regular maintenance intervals, all resulting in lower overall maintenance costs.

The product range incorporates a variety of greases, both general purpose and degreasers which are environmentally friendly. This extends from snubbers to pantographs and all maintenance operations. The most commonly used Spanjaard products in the rail industry include Anti Scuff Paste, Copper Compound, Electric Motor Cleaner, Extreme Kleen Bio degradable Degreaser, Spark (penetrating oil and moisture displacer), Silicone Spray, Lectro Kleen (cleaner of electronic components), Nickel Compound, Weld Anti Spatter, Engineering Marking Blue, RB2X grease, Open Gear greases, ADF and pre assembly lubricant cutting fluids.

The company's in-house R&D facility stays abreast of industrial requirements, constantly implementing ways of improving the effectiveness of existing products, often at lower cost. New products are fully tested prior to being introduced to the marketplace, giving peace of mind to the end user. Our trained technical sales representatives, based in all major centres, are able to assess and spec a product for an application. All products are available nationally.

As an ISO 9001 listed supplier, Spanjaard manufacturing process and quality control conform to the stringent requirements laid down by the International Standards Organisation.

The Spanjaard Group of companies was founded 49 years ago and today encompasses a listed company which is highly respected for the development and production of specialized lubricants and allied chemical products for automotive, industrial, marine and domestic applications. Spanjaard Limited was quoted on the JSE in 1987.
