A national survey on waste management companies in South Africa has awarded Averda South Africa with four category wins.

The 2018 PMR.Africa Awards has recognised Averda with Diamond Arrow Awards in the Industrial Cleaning, Medical or Healthcare Risk Waste, and Hazardous Waste categories, as well as a Gold Arrow Award in the Non-Hazardous Waste category.

Respondents judged Averda on attributes such as the company's compliance with regulatory requirements, environmentally friendly practices, and overall value for money.

"This acknowledgement confirms that our strategy to deliver a premium service, commitment to safety and compliance and continual innovation to evolve our offering through technology is reaping rewards and meets the needs of our clients," says MD of Averda South Africa, Johan van den Berg.

"It makes me proud to reward industry giants such as Averda on the work done in building sustainable companies. The contribution to business and the economy is important and we need to support these businesses as they continue to grow, innovate and build the South African landscape," says the CEO of PMR, Johan Hattingh.

Customers are placing safety and compliance first, coupled with innovation.
